

AC&M released today its estimates on number of Russian residential broadband connections as of March 2009.

We are specifically emphasize that the numbers reported are residential accounts only. Number of corporate connections is not included into our releases. This may cause some difference with figures reported by operators who tend to combine residential and enterprise customers.

Total number of residential broadband subscribers in Russia is estimated at 9.14 mln. Comstar, Vimpelcom and Volgatelecom are the top players in the segment.

Operator	Subscribers, March 2009
Comstar	1,120,000
Vimpelcom	849,700
Volgatelecom	825,000
CenterTelecom	750,000
North-West Telecom	660,000
